LOOKS OF EUROPE AS REORGANIZED

FORMER GERMAN MINISTER OF INTERIOR DRAWS FANTASTIC AFTER-WAR SKETCHES

Attributed to the Times.

BERLIN, March 19.—A picture of Europe completely reorganized, with Germany and her allies dominating everything and everything else their fallen rivals a tribute of homage to the victors, is the sketch of the future of Europe drawn by Rudolph Meier, former minister of the interior of Germany, in a pamphlet entitled "The World After the War" that has just been issued.

World Dictate Peace in London.
The first indication which the author believes will be dominant in Germany when she returns from the war, is the dictation of peace terms in London, after two years of fighting, is estimated on the basis of war costs of 70 milliards of marks to be dictated by Germany, Austria and Turkey, in the proportion of 16 to 14 and 4 respectively.

To Ask Twice Cost of War.
As Germany at the end of the Franco-Prussian War made the French pay two and one-half times what it cost to conduct the conflict, so the author believes Germany will make the Allies pay twice as much at the end of the present war. In addition 15 milliards will be demanded for the support of dependents of those killed.

In Control of Paris and London.
The author sees Germany firmly established after the present peace, and in a position to control both London and Paris and consequently to rule the world. He estimates the cost of the war at 20,000 milliards. The author believes that the victors will be forced to accept a peace which will leave Germany in a position to rule the world.

See Russia Dismembered.
Russia is pictured as completely dismembered, her territory divided up among neighboring powers, and the center devoted to the point of view, as well as the Balkan region in Germany's hands. The author believes that the victors will be forced to accept a peace which will leave Germany in a position to rule the world.

Dividing Up the Spoils.
According to the author, the victors will be forced to accept a peace which will leave Germany in a position to rule the world.
